

Customer Information

Statement of Work for:

- Lattus Hardware Installation

General Information

Quantum Statements of Work are crafted for the following:

- Onsite hardware and software installations and/or configurations performed by Quantum service teams at the customer site;
- Relocation of Quantum equipment.

Services beyond the work defined in standard SOWs may be available. These services are separately quoted. SOWs to cover such work will be drafted by the Quantum support and services teams working with the customer. Planning, design or architectural changes are considered billable activities.

Services described in SOWs will be provided during the hours from 8:00AM to 5:00PM, Monday to Friday (excluding Public Holidays), unless other arrangements have been made through your service representative.

- Onsite services are scheduled with a minimum of a 14-day lead-time. Shorter lead-times may be accommodated subject to resource availability. Such accommodation will be delivered at an additional charge.
- Cancellations of confirmed installation dates will be subject to charges for non-recoverable costs already incurred by Quantum. In the event of cancellation, rescheduling will be at the discretion of Quantum based on resource availability.
 - Cancellations within two (2) business days of the confirmed installation date will be subject to charges for non-recoverable costs already incurred by Quantum, plus 20% of the quoted installation price.
- For services scheduled outside of the normal business day additional charges will apply.
- Normal installation assumes one site visit unless otherwise specified by installation team
 - Charges will be incurred if additional site visits are required because the site is not fully ready when the installation team arrives on site.
- Relocation Services assume two site visits: one site visit for de-installation of the existing Quantum Product, then another site visit for the reinstallation of the Quantum Product at a different location.
 - Additional site visits will be charged as separate events.
- If a phone installation engagement does not end with a successful installation, it may be necessary for Quantum or Quantum service provider to perform installation work onsite.
 - Any such onsite install activity will be billable and additional to the obligation to pay for the initial phone installation engagement.

NOTE: If the Customer is not in compliance with the terms and responsibilities as outlined in this Service Description then Quantum has no obligation to deliver this Service.

Scope of Service

General: For the purpose of all services, the "Customer" is the party issuing the Purchase Order and acknowledging the fulfillment of this SOW. The Sales and Support Terms and Conditions attached to Quantum's Price Quote and posted on Quantum's website (www.quantum.com/ServiceandSupport/Services/HardwareSupport/Index.aspx) apply to the Services, except for the Limited Services Warranty and Limitation of Liability, which is governed by this SOW. Services provided hereunder shall be considered "Professional Services" as defined in the Sales and Support Terms and Conditions. Any services provided by a Reseller or another third-party are not governed by this SOW. Quantum's role is the deployment of Quantum-specific product configurable parameters and features. Quantum configurable parameters and features will be implemented such that the Quantum components will be presented and available to the Customer SAN for Host Operating System device discovery and backup application. Quantum will make a reasonable effort to resolve multi-vendor systems integration issues. However, this SOW does not oblige Quantum to assume the role of a Systems Integrator.

On Site Activities by the Customer

Reasonable cooperation of Customer personnel is required to efficiently and effectively complete installation, de-installation and/or configuration services.

Customer's Responsibilities at the Site of Installation must be completed prior to installation, applicable to all SOW's for onsite installation

All information related to the planning and installation of this product can be found at: <http://www.quantum.com/serviceandsupport/get-help/index.aspx#help>. All parameters specified as the customer responsibility must meet the specifications included in these guides.

3. Ensure all Customer data is secure and backed up;
4. Provide access to key Customer personnel whose participation is required, Network/SAN Engineer, Backup Application Administrator and facilities support personnel;
5. Provide necessary site access at all work sites specified in the customer's purchase agreement;
6. Ensure that sufficient floor space is available for the installed equipment plus additional clearance for installation and maintenance;

7. Ensure that the appropriate rack type and sufficient racks space are in place and accessible for rack-mounted products if not purchased from Quantum;
8. Make floor tile cuts ready if applicable;
9. Ensure live power connections of the right type and quantity, as specified for the product;
10. Install cabling from Customer Network/SAN to Quantum Products;
11. Provide valid Network/SAN addressing (i.e., IP and WWPN) and configuration; details;
12. Provide and configure required Ethernet Switches;
13. Provide and configure FC Switch zoning if applicable and not provided by Quantum;
14. Provide outgoing Email Notification address(s) to support service alerts;
15. Install/configure Customer Applications;
16. Ensure that valid license keys required at installation and sent from Quantum are readily available to the installation team;
17. Confirm successful access to Quantum Products from customer application following completion of installation.
18. If installation involves an upgrade to a Quantum product ensure that firmware is no more than one firmware revision removed from current production firmware level.
